We now stand at the edge of a dream. For most of us, it is a time of indecision and uncertainty. Perhaps we wonder why we bother to go on, if in living and growing we are only dying. But then, we recall Benjamin Franklin, who at the age of eighty-one was a participating member of the Constitutional Convention; Elizabeth Cady Stanton, who in 1848 led the first women's rights convention and demanded resolution of the injustices suffered by women; the Wright brothers, Frank and Orville, who despite ridicule, learned to fly; and Martin Luther King, who marched from Mississippi to Washington just so America would realize there exists another world beyond the one in suburbia with a house, two cars, and a colored television. When we look at their lives, we realize we must move on to new lands, for we too have a dream. In taking our first step forward, we dedicate our yearbook to the hope that each and every one of us will become an active and productive member of a peaceful and progressive society.

Class Song

Turn, Turn, Turn

(Chorus-

To everything, turn, turn, turn,
There is a season, turn, turn, turn,
And a time for every purpose under heaven.

A time to be born, a time to die
A time to plant, a time to reap
A time to kill, a time to heal
A time to laugh, a time to weep.

—Chorus—

A time to buildup, a time to breakdown
A time to dance, a time to mourn
A time to cast away stones
A time to gather stones together.

-Chorus-

A time of love, a time of hate
A time of war, a time of peace
A time you may embrace
A time to refrain from embracing.

-Chorus-

A time to gain, a time to lose
A time to rend, a time to sew
A time to love, a time to hate
A time of peace, I swear it's not too late.

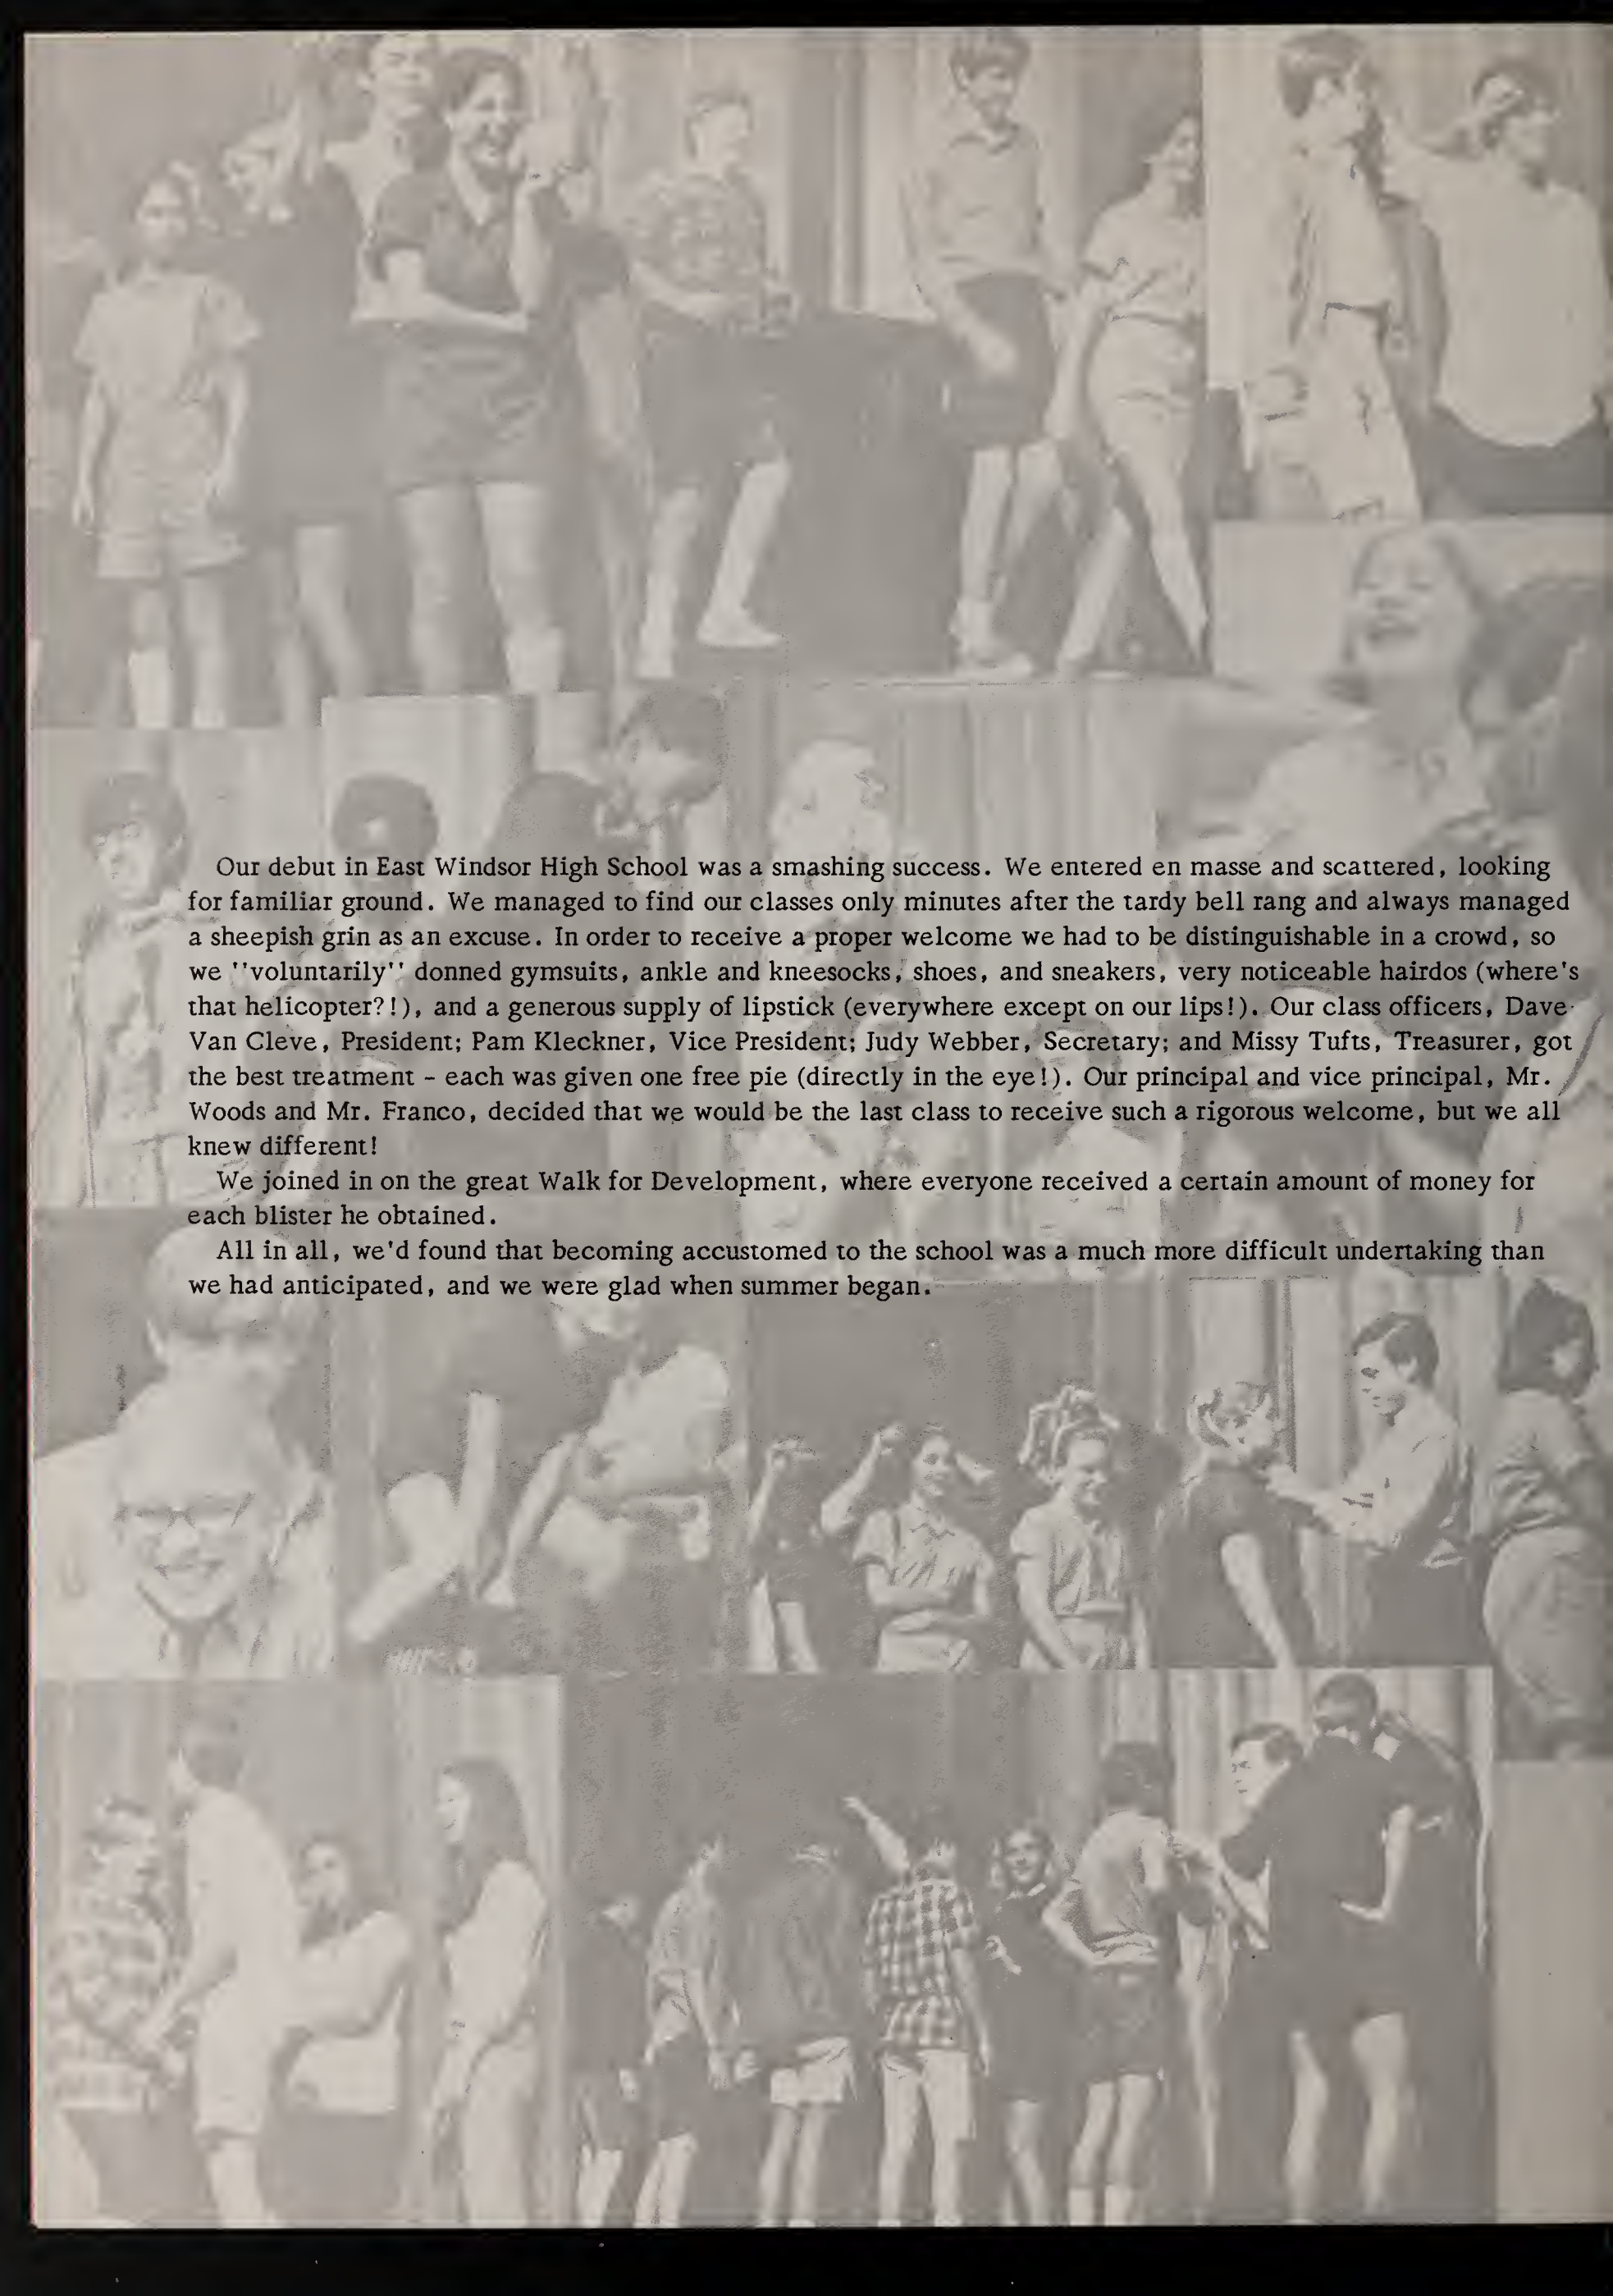

As the Class of Nineteen Seventy-Four now prepares to leave East Windsor High School for the last time, we feel we cannot do so without first gratefully acknowledging the kindness, patience, and understanding shown by some special people. These people have given us their time and wisdom. They have helped to make us better persons. They have made us a little more prepared for next year and the years to come. To Mr. Catino, Miss Maskiewicz, Mr. Eichman, Mr. Ives, and Mr. Kleckner, we would like to extend our special thanks.

Senior Class Officers and Advisors

Phil Dupuis (absent), Pres.; Judy Webber, Treas.; Janet Thrall, V. Pres.; Mary Dempsy, Sec.
Mrs. Chiappetta, Mr. Organek

Our debut in East Windsor High School was a smashing success. We entered en masse and scattered, looking for familiar ground. We managed to find our classes only minutes after the tardy bell rang and always managed a sheepish grin as an excuse. In order to receive a proper welcome we had to be distinguishable in a crowd, so we "voluntarily" donned gym suits, ankle and kneesocks, shoes, and sneakers, very noticeable hairdos (where's that helicopter?!), and a generous supply of lipstick (everywhere except on our lips!). Our class officers, Dave Van Cleve, President; Pam Kleckner, Vice President; Judy Webber, Secretary; and Missy Tufts, Treasurer, got the best treatment - each was given one free pie (directly in the eye!). Our principal and vice principal, Mr. Woods and Mr. Franco, decided that we would be the last class to receive such a rigorous welcome, but we all knew different!

We joined in on the great Walk for Development, where everyone received a certain amount of money for each blister he obtained.

All in all, we'd found that becoming accustomed to the school was a much more difficult undertaking than we had anticipated, and we were glad when summer began.

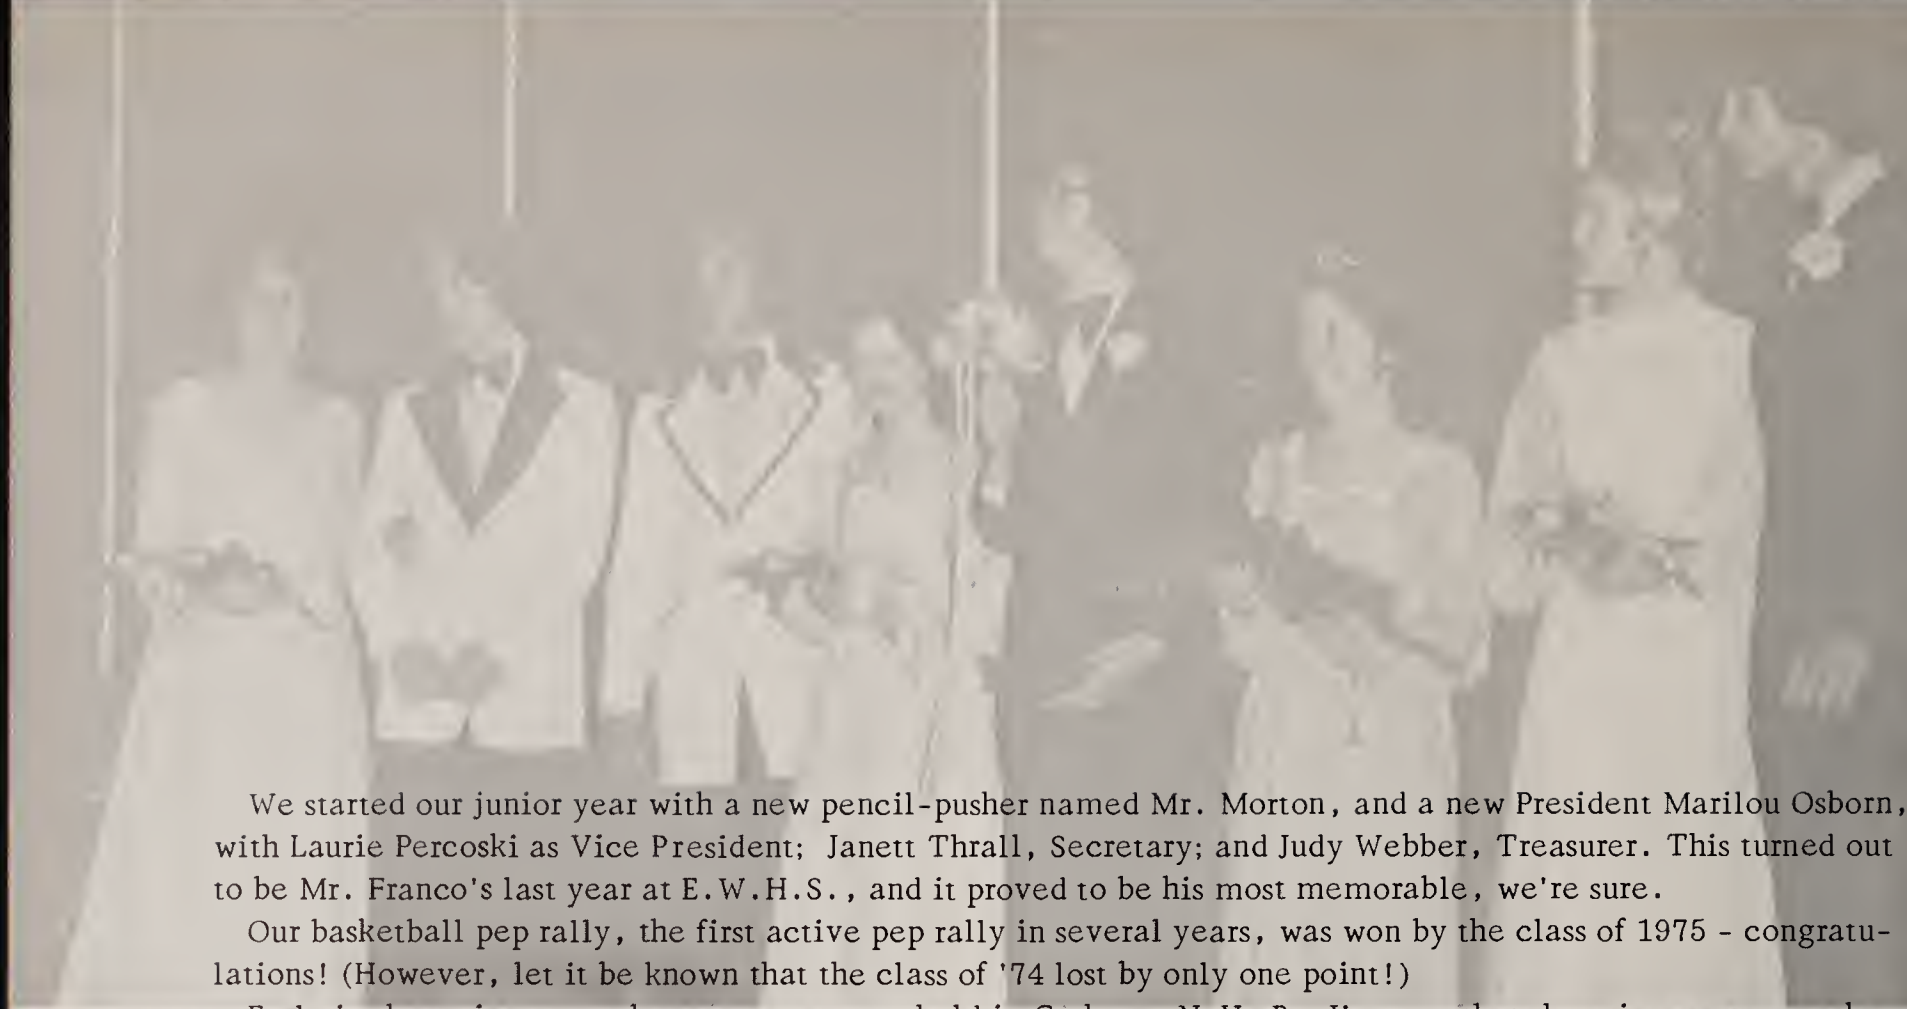

Our sophomore year began all too soon, under the capable guidance of Cathi Whitehouse, President; Mike Davis, Vice President; Janett Thrall, Secretary; and Judy Webber, Treasurer. It was to be Mr. Woods' last year at E.W.H.S., but he left a forwarding address of "Happy Hearts and Minds Rest Home," Nowhere, U.S.A.

In hopes of raising much needed funds, the class of '74 staged an unrepeatable expose' at Chester's Market. The car wash, as time would have it, turned out to be one of our "best efforts!"

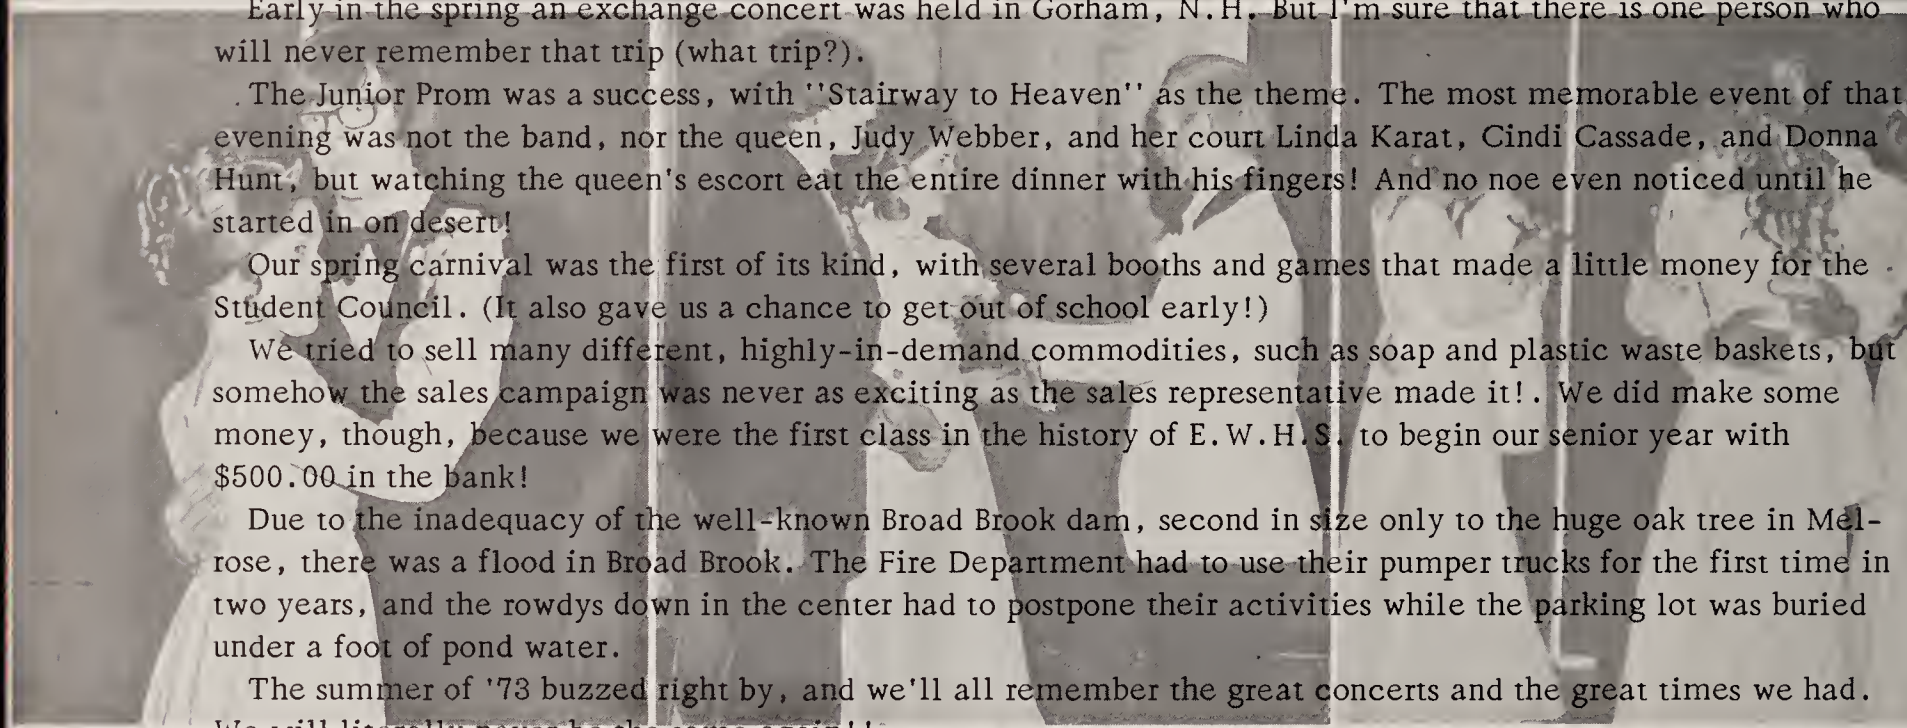

The students in Biology I had their first big trip of the season, journeying to Barn Island for a day of unusual discoveries and unexpected happenings. But first we had to stop at the E.W. Sewer plant - definitely one of our town's foremost biological achievements! Although a few members of this group just barely escaped certain death while crossing the marshy plains of the island, we all managed to make the swim (or walk, for some!) across the channel and return to the bus safely.

We started our junior year with a new pencil-pusher named Mr. Morton, and a new President Marilou Osborn, with Laurie Percoski as Vice President; Janett Thrall, Secretary; and Judy Webber, Treasurer. This turned out to be Mr. Franco's last year at E.W.H.S., and it proved to be his most memorable, we're sure.

Our basketball pep rally, the first active pep rally in several years, was won by the class of 1975 - congratulations! (However, let it be known that the class of '74 lost by only one point!)

Early in the spring an exchange concert was held in Gorham, N.H. But I'm sure that there is one person who will never remember that trip (what trip?).

The Junior Prom was a success, with "Stairway to Heaven" as the theme. The most memorable event of that evening was not the band, nor the queen, Judy Webber, and her court Linda Karat, Cindi Cassade, and Donna Hunt, but watching the queen's escort eat the entire dinner with his fingers! And no one even noticed until he started in on dessert!

Our spring carnival was the first of its kind, with several booths and games that made a little money for the Student Council. (It also gave us a chance to get out of school early!)

We tried to sell many different, highly-in-demand commodities, such as soap and plastic waste baskets, but somehow the sales campaign was never as exciting as the sales representative made it! We did make some money, though, because we were the first class in the history of E.W.H.S. to begin our senior year with $500.00 in the bank!

Due to the inadequacy of the well-known Broad Brook dam, second in size only to the huge oak tree in Melrose, there was a flood in Broad Brook. The Fire Department had to use their pumper trucks for the first time in two years, and the rowdys down in the center had to postpone their activities while the parking lot was buried under a foot of pond water.

The summer of '73 buzzed right by, and we'll all remember the great concerts and the great times we had. We will literally never be the same again!!

We entered our senior year, impatiently looking forward to whatever happens after high school. We were greeted by a new vice principal, Mr. Saitta, with Phil Dupuis as President; Janett Thrall, Vice President; Mary Dempsey, Secretary; and Judy Webber, Treasurer.

Once we were finally accustomed to the school we had no problem dodging barrels of water in the hallways, and we soon learned that rubber galoshes were needed instead of sneakers in the boy's gym. No matter how much renovation is done, however, there will always be a "Flood" in the library!

The administration succeeded in confusing the entire student body by adopting a rotating schedule. But we soon learned how to hide in the halls and beat the Pepsi machine at its own game.

A stringent policy was also adopted in the library prohibiting anyone from leaving once inside the maximum security barriers. But while many attempted to break out of the library, somebody actually tried to break in, vandalizing and dismembering books and other important materials. And due to vandalism in the boy's lavs, they were almost always closed, but Daring Dan and Risky Rick solved the problem by using the girl's lavs (and no one even noticed).

The energy crisis was soon to take its toll, as temperatures inside seldom peaked at 60 and school began a half hour later than usual. Smoking privileges were granted so that we could keep warm outside (it WAS warmer, you know!).

Yes, our senior year was full of daring escapes and hair raising races back to the old school and the old routine.

Although many events occurred that we all wish we could forget, we must all remember that we have had the distinct privilege and responsibility of being the class of 1974 at East Windsor High School. We will never be all together again under these same circumstances, with the same influences and opportunities. Once we graduate we will no longer be members of a group of 134 individuals; we will be members of the world, where the price you pay for failure is not a suspension or a demerit, but a chance to try again, Congratulations on your tremendous success.

EW Ends Ellington's Streak

Nets

3-1

Upset

By MICHAEL CHARTIER
Journal Inquirer
Sports Writer

EAST WINDSOR — The North Central Connecticut Conference rumor mill had it, in mid-September, that someone might stop Ellington High's soccer streak this season.

But no one suspected who, or when, or where.

See ELLINGTON'S, Page 35

Ellington's Skein Ends At 42 As Tetro Scores Three For East

Yesterday, at East Windsor High School, the streak — a remarkable string of 42 consecutive victories, including two state championships — was ended.

East Windsor, fired-up mentally and physically ready, thundered by Ellington, 3-1, as the Panthers surprisingly dominated all four periods of play.

It was Ellington's first loss since 1970.

After briefly trailing, 1-0, East riddled Ellington's premier goalie John Basch for three goals in a shattering span of four minutes and 22 seconds during the third quarter.

An overly aggressive comeback bid by the Knights in the final period only produced a rash of turnovers, hurried passes, desperation shots, and, in general, frenzied panic.

Losing Coach Dave Conant, both poised and numbed, didn't cite Ellington mistakes as the decisive factor, but instead lauded the team that beat his.

"Give Mel Kleckner and his kids every bit of credit for beating us this afternoon," he explained. "East Windsor played a brilliant game of ball control. As for ourselves, we've never been in a situation during the past few years where we found ourselves looking up. Something just happened out there when we fell behind. The kids couldn't get it together. We couldn't handle ourselves."

The Knights ran into trouble early in the opening moments as the Panthers' front line peppered the Ellington goal with a screaming volley of shots. Basch, somewhat of an oversized vacuum cleaner around the nets, smartly, and perhaps miraculously, handled each attempt.

A frustrated Keith Tetro challenged Basch time and again with drives from inside the penalty area, but the stalwart netminder, with the agility of an acrobat, withstood the assault.

The Panthers' momentum carried briskly into the second quarter. With one minute gone, reserve Jesus Martinez, East Windsor's exchange student from Mexico, rifled a shot from the left side over Basch's head into the net. However, officials ruled Dennis Rajala offside on the play and nullified the goal.

"We could have won this game by a greater margin, but we blew all those early shots," concluded Kleckner. Yet, Tetro is the type of kid who's always coming back at you. There are not enough words to describe his contribution on the soccer field."

Ellington drew first blood when reserve Jim Surdel took a pass at midfield, dribbled all the way to the center of the Panthers' penalty area, and ripped a knee high shot under goalie Mel Kleckner, Jr., at 5:09 in the third period.

Almost instantaneously, the Panthers engulfed the Knights' goal area. Rajala commanded the ball to the left side and fed Bill Sligar who had penetrated the middle. Basch broke out of the goal to stop the ball while teammates Rich Bedard and Dennis Quinn scurried to smother it. Sligar calmly passed to Tetro who scored on a chip shot, tying the game after the Knights had led for 18 seconds.

Moments later, the Panthers scrambled the Ellington fullbacks out of position near the goal and Bedard was charged with blocking the ball with his hands.

Tetro, the leading scorer in the NCCC with 10 goals in seven outings, was motioned by Coach Kleckner to convert the penalty kick. A similar situation during the first half saw Tetro sorely miss his conversion by sailing the ball out of bounds.

This time however, he delivered a whistling low liner which the diving Basch could not contain. With 7:52 gone in the period, the Panthers were on their way to an upset.

The Knights came back with a chance to tie it, but Surdel's goal was overruled by another offside call.

Again East was able to fast break into Ellington territory. Martinez crossed to the far right corner where Tetro footed the pass and floated a soft boot over the outstretched, leaping Basch.

Panther supporters, excited by the 3-1 lead, jubilantly sprang from their seats and assured each other Ellington was a dying giant. They cheered the remaining period from the sidelines and erupted vigorously when the final horn sounded.

Kleckner, who cheerfully admitted it was one of his proudest wins, tabbed his squad as a better team than Ellington.

"They beat us earlier in the season, 1-0," he explained, "but overall, I'd say that Ellington is not a better ball club than we are. Our record might not be good enough to get us into the post season tournament," Kleckner concluded, "but we've run into some stiff competition. I feel our losses could have gone either way, and perhaps what happened here today is an indication that we may actually be the best in the conference."

E.G., Eagles Draw

EAST GRANBY—A goal by East Granby's Lenny Krogh midway through the final overtime period vaulted the Crusaders to a 1-1 deadlock with the Tolland Eagles yesterday afternoon at East Granby.

Krogh's score came one minute after the Eagles had taken the lead on a tally by Stewart Benson. It marks the second time this season the team have battled to a tie.

Krogh, the NCCC's second leading scorer, was held in check throughout the entire contest by Tolland's fullback Steve Wilcox. Despite Krogh's ninth goal of the season, Eagles Coach Augie Link praised Wilcox for his outstanding efforts.

Tolland scored when a clear-in shot eluded East Granby goalie Greg Wright and bounced wildly at the mouth of the net. Wright lunged for the ball, but knocked it out to Tolland's Benson playing the leftwing position. Benson dribbled in, lost the ball, then recovered and scored.

East Granby proceeded to move deep into Eagle territory and were awarded a throw-in when the ball was kicked out of bounds by Tolland.

Goalie Tim Blauvelt gambled and tried to snag the toss outside the Tolland goal. Blauvelt instead collided with an East Granby player and Krogh pounded the high hopper with his
